Summer School in Health Education

THE Central Council for Health Education will hold its 1953 Summer School from August 10th to 20th, at Royal Holloway College, which is situated in beautiful country near the Royal Castle of Windsor and is within easy reach of London.

The programme is organized on group discussion lines to ensure the fullest participation by all the delegates. The lecturers are all eminent authorities, and the discussion groups meet under tutors of wide experience. Demonstrations are given of the various aids and techniques that can be used for teaching purposes. This year it is also planned to arrange an International Forum at which it is hoped that delegates from all the countries represented at the school will take part.

Every effort is made to combine an attractive social programme with a valuable and interesting course. During the students' leisure time local expeditions, theatre parties, social evenings and other recreational activities are arranged. There are tennis and squash courts and a heated swimming pool available for the use of students. The inclusive fee for tuition and residence is £16 16s.

Further particulars can be obtained from the Medical Director, The Central Council for Health Education, Tavistock House, Tavistock Square, London, W.C.1.

Excursions will be arranged to some of the many places of interest around Aix.

The Bank of England have authorized the grant of an extra £5 currency allowance, over and above the basic allowance of £25, to the first forty applicants. Early application is therefore advised.

The fee for the school is £34, which covers registration, accommodation and full board for fifteen days, second (not third) class travel and tuition.
